Utility Seizure Measure Near Showdown Vote

Indications Pointing To Defeat Of Proposal Advanced By Lausche

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee today recommended defeat of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's utility seizure bill at a special session of the Ohio Legislature.

All 21 of the members present approved the report to the House after a closed meeting with House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) in his office.

The committee's report went to the House for consideration. A showdown vote is expected this afternoon.

Lawmakers reported mounting opposition to enactment of the proposal at the special legislative session. The Cincinnati Enquirer reported that "the tenor is that law enforcement is needed rather than new state legislation."

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, said that so far as he is concerned the Senate will go home tonight without action on more than a dozen appointments by the governor "or anything else."

Lausche asked the special session for power to seize and operate struck utility firms in an effort to end a Scioto County telephone blackout without calling out the Ohio National Guard.

Portsmouth and other towns in the area have been without telephone service since Oct. 15 when Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. closed its exchanges there.

A STRIKE by the Communication Workers of America against the company began last July 15 in 24 Ohio counties.

William Sibert, representative of a Virginia agency like Ohio's public utilities commission, testified Tuesday before a House Judiciary Committee hearing. He said the proposed Ohio law should operate as well as a similar Virginia statute used in strikes against utilities there.

Ohio CIO and AFL officials challenged constitutionality of the proposed Ohio law. They said collective bargaining was the only solution. (Continued on Page Two)

PUCO Books New Phone Firm Hearing

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today set Monday, Dec. 17, for a hearing on an order for emergency telephone service in Scioto County.

The date was set a few hours after the Ohio Supreme Court cleared the way for the hearing. The court granted a request to modify a temporary writ of prohibition obtained by Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. to block a commission hearing originally scheduled for Nov. 7.

The Dec. 17 hearing will be at 1:30 p. m. in the State Office Building here.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Ralph N. Mahaffey said modification of the writ would permit the commission to give the company at least 15 days' notice of the hearing. The court granted the writ because the commission gave the company only five days' notice.

Ohio Consolidated would be required at a hearing to show why it should not be ordered to provide emergency service in the Portsmouth area.

The company closed exchanges in the area following rock-throwing and cable-cutting incidents during a strike by Communication Workers of America that began July 15 in 24 counties.

Florida Chilly

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—One of the season's worst cold waves struck Florida today with heavy frost in some farming areas. A vegetable growing section south of Miami recorded some readings as low as 30 degrees.

Malenkov Said Now Adviser To Puppet Chief In Hungary

BUDAPEST (AP)—Former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov was reliably reported today to be in Budapest to bolster the government of Russian-installed Premier Janos Kadar.

An excellent source, who asked not to be quoted by name, said Malenkov, now a deputy Soviet premier, arrived in the Hungarian capital Nov. 23.

This source said it was Malenkov who advised Kadar to change his lenient attitude and resort to harsh measures against still striking Hungarian workers.

This was the explanation given for Kadar's two sharp speeches broadcast Sunday and Monday in which he reversed his former conciliatory attitude in conferences with leaders of the workers' council of Greater Budapest.

Although Kadar has stated explicitly that the will add only "nonpartisans" to his presently 100 per cent Communist government, he conferred Tuesday for three hours with Bela Kovacs, secretary general of the Smallholders party.

Kovacs, who spent more than seven years in Russian prisons and is probably the only person the Hungarian peasantry would accept as their leader, had been a minister of state in Imre Nagy's short-lived government which the Russians overthrew.

What Kadar discussed with Kovacs could not be learned.

Promises of amnesty from Hungary's Russian-dominated government today failed to cut the flow of refugees into Austria from the revolt-torn country.

Instead the flood of fugitives increased again, after a brief slackening. The total who have reached Austria since the revolt against communism and Russian dictation passed the 90,000 mark.

Police in the Burgenland border province reported that 3,000 made it across the border Tuesday night, bringing the total for the last 24 hours to nearly 5,000. This was an increase over the day before, but not as many as the daily average last week.

The independent Vienna newspaper Die Presse quoted arriving refugees as charging that Communists were getting most of the food and other supplies being distributed by the International Red Cross in Budapest.

A spokesman for the Swiss-run Red Cross committee commented: "We are distributing Red Cross supplies in Budapest where they are most needed. We cannot guarantee that they will go to certain individuals, but we are doing our best to help any person in need."

The refugees claimed Communists were managing to monopolize the Red Cross aid by making their house and block wardens responsible for the distribution.

Court Continues Order On Pickets

Section Requiring Residence In Pickaway County Eliminated

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Radcliff today continued an injunction that limits picketing at the Circleville telephone exchange, but discontinued a rule under which all pickets had to be residents of this county.

The court action came at a hearing held this morning.

With the exception of a day or two, pickets of the Communication Workers of America have been on duty constantly at the local exchange since the CWA began its company-wide strike against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company. The walkout, which began last July, led Governor Frank Lausche to call the special session of the legislature, seeking a way to end the dispute.

On October 25, Judge Radcliff issued an injunction that limited to two the number of pickets at each doorway of the local exchange.

AMONG OTHER limitations in that restraining order was the stipulation that only pickets who live in this county were permitted to go on duty outside the Circleville exchange.

Under the revised order announced today, there is no limitation.

Logan Man Killed In Fall From Bridge

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Phillip Parry, 58, of Logan, Ohio, died in Booth Hospital Tuesday night from injuries received earlier in the day when he fell from a scaffold while painting the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad bridge.

Parry fell 45 feet to the ground below one end of the bridge, which spans the Ohio River.

Air Force Denies 'Pressure' Behind Officer's Dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has accepted the resignation of Lt. Titus A. Saunders while disputing his contention that it was pressured by a Southern senator into dismissing him.

Saunders, a 25-year-old Negro, changed his mind several times after the Air Force last week gave him the option of resigning his commission under honorable conditions or being dropped from the rolls.

An Air Force spokesman said this is standard procedure in cases where a reserve officer has been convicted in a civil court. Saunders was convicted on charges of drunken driving in Mississippi in 1954.

Saunders had said Pentagon officials had told him that Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) had been using pressure to have him either transferred back to Mississippi or dropped from the service.

An Air Force spokesman denied that "pressure" was involved. Stennis, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he had written Pentagon officials "inviting their attention to the case and calling on them to take action with reference to keeping an officer who is in default of his bond." Saunders was freed on $2,000 bond while he appealed the drunken driving conviction returned by a Mississippi court. At the time of the arrest, he was stationed at Columbus, Ga.

While out on bond and while the appeal was pending, Saunders was transferred to Lockbourne Air Base, Ohio.

Saunders appealed the case to the Mississippi Supreme Court on the basis that he had driven his car to the curb and parked it on the instructions of a police officer after an accident. Saunders' car had collided with another, but a woman companion had been driving Saunders' car at the time of the accident.

The state supreme court upheld his conviction.

Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche last summer refused a request by the state of Mississippi to have Saunders extradited to serve a six-month jail sentence arising out of his conviction.

A native of Meigs, Ga., Saunders is married and has a 5-month-old son. His college degree entitles him to teach high school English and social studies. He said he is looking for "any kind of job opportunity."

He will be separated from the Air Force on Saturday.

Air Crash Victim's Bodies Recovered

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The bodies of 25 persons killed in the crash of a New York-Caracas airliner were brought down by cable car Tuesday night from the cloud-shrouded mountains at the city's edge.

There were no survivors.

The dead included 10 Americans, among them 26-year-old outfielder Charles Peete of Omaha, the American Assn.'s 1956 batting champion, his wife and three children.

The Venezuelan airliner, swinging in from the Caribbean through a rainstorm to land at Maiquetia, Caracas' seaside airport, plunged into the wooded mountain.

Ike Readies Aid Fund Plea

$4 Billion In Foreign Assistance Is Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is tentatively planning to ask Congress for slightly more than $4 billion to continue foreign aid for a 10th straight year.

Such a sum would boost to more than $50 billion the amount of money the United States has granted for food, raw materials, weapons and technical assistance to more than 40 nations since the Marshall Plan was launched in 1948.

The new program, now being drafted by officials, would cover the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

President Eisenhower, who may officially disclose its size in his budget message in January, still must give final approval to the sum tentatively agreed upon.

The State and Defense Departments and the International Cooperation Administration, which operates the foreign aid program, have agreed on a figure of slightly more than $4 billion and have submitted it to the Budget Bureau, an arm of the White House.

THE SUM IS about $900 million less than the administration sought from Congress this year. Congress cut about $1 billion from the administration program, voting $3,766,000,000.

Officials said the sum to be asked in new money would make it possible to maintain spending for both economic and military aid at current levels. This spending now totals about $4.2 billion annually—$2.7 billion of it for military aid.

One big unresolved question at present, informants said, is what to do about foreign aid to the war-torn Middle East. Economic aid programs have been suspended for Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria.

Planners are holding off a decision on funds for the Middle East in the hope that outlines of a peaceful settlement of present tensions may become clear.

News In Brief Hundreds Said Missing In Asian Storms

MANILA (AP)—Hundreds of Asian seamen were missing and the crew of an American freighter was reported abandoning ship today as storms continued to sweep the South China Sea and the Western Pacific.

Globe Wireless intercepted a message from the 8,292-ton freighter Charles E. Dant saying the captain had ordered his 46 crewmen off in Lingayen Gulf, on the west coast of Luzon Island.

The U. S. Navy ship Muskingum had been standing by and presumably took the men aboard. The Dant took a bad list when the cargo of copper concentrates it was hauling from the Philippines to Tacoma, Wash., shifted in heavy seas.

Hope dwindled for hundreds of Malay and Chinese fishermen missing off the East Coast of Malaya as more bad weather grounded British air force planes and kept Royal Navy ships out of the area. A gale early Monday smashed 80 fish traps off Johore State. Built of poles driven in deep water and fitted with nets, the traps each had up to a half dozen men living in small huts on them.

Johore police said between 200 and 300 men were believed missing.

Typhoon Olive, packing center winds of 75 miles an hour, struck Luzon island, in the Philippines, today. There were no immediate reports of damage on land.

Top Carcasses Bring Record Sales Prices

CHICAGO (AP)—Three grand champion carcasses Tuesday night brought new high sale prices in an unprecedented auction before 12,000 spectators at the International Livestock Exposition.

The 60-pound champion lamb was sold for $13 a pound, cracking a 1925 record of $8 a pound. Allen Bros., a Chicago hotel supply firm bought the lamb at $780.

Meanwhile, the 611-pound champion Angus steer carcass was sold on a bid of $8.25 a pound for $5,040.75. The bid by Pfaltz Bros., Chicago surveyors, broke the $7 a pound record also set in 1925.

The 149-pound champion barrow sold for $8 a pound, eclipsing a $1.60 price per pound in 1928. The Armour Hotel Supply Co. got the carcass for $1,192.

A 980-pound Shorthorn senior calf shown by Pennsylvania State University has been named grand champion steer of the exposition.

Penn State also won the reserve championship on a junior yearling Aberdeen-Angus that scaled 1,160 pounds.

Both of these will be sold at auction and more record prices are possible.

British Tories Grumbling About U.S. Mid-East Policy

LONDON (AP)—Anti-American feeling soared to new heights today in Britain. Cartoonists lampooned President Eisenhower mercilessly. A denunciation of U. S. policy introduced by more than 100 Conservatives was before Parliament.

Other voices, however, called for renewed efforts to heal the breach with the United States caused by the British-French dilemma in Egypt.

In Parliament, the opposing views were spelled out in motions of the minority Labor and Liberal parties urging reconciliation with Washington and by an influential section of the ruling Conservative party attacking the U. N. Assembly and blaming U. S. Middle East policy for "endangering the Atlantic alliance."

The Conservative motion was signed by nearly one-third of the Eden government's backers in Commons. Seldom in history has so large a segment of the Tory party undertaken an attack in this fashion on an allied nation. It said:

"THIS HOUSE congratulates the foreign secretary (Selwyn Lloyd) on his efforts to secure international control of the Suez Canal, and deplores both the resolution of the U. N. General Assembly calling for immediate and unconditional withdrawal of British and French troops from Egypt and the attitude of the U. S. A., which is gravely endangering the Atlantic alliance."

Four separate U. N. resolutions have called on Britain, France and Israel to pull their troops out of Egypt. The United States supported them. The endorsement of the resolution by nearly a third of the Conservative membership of the House promised grave trouble for the government if it began a complete withdrawal.

If the Conservatives hold ranks, they could easily adopt the motion. But the party itself has been split by dissension over the British-French intervention in Egypt, although they closed ranks behind Prime Minister Eden Nov. 23 when he left for Jamaica suffering from "overstrain."

Opposition motions urging the Conservative government to try to restore the close understanding of previous years with the United States were filed by a group of Laborites and also by the tiny, middle-of-the-road Liberal party.

In France, too, public opinion mounted against the United States as a result of the Suez crisis. The United States was blamed for not moving faster to supply Europe with petroleum to replace the cut-off Middle East supplies.

But French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said: "Despite our bitterness, we cannot renounce American friendship nor the Atlantic Alliance."

Mrs. Stevenson said the wedding will take place at 4 p. m. in the First Congregational Church of Oberlin followed by a reception in the Stevenson home. She said the couple will leave that night for a two-week honeymoon in the Barbados Islands.

Police Say Tommy Dorsey Death Case Not Yet Closed

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)—Greenwich police haven't closed their investigation into the death of band leader Tommy Dorsey, and Police Chief David W. Robbins said a note the famed trombonist left his wife "is important."

The statement from Chief Robbins came even after the medical examiner, Dr. C. Stanley Knapp, signed a death certificate which listed the death as accidental.

The note Robbins referred to was not one given out by Dorsey's personal manager, Tino Barzile, shortly after the body was found in the Dorsey home here Monday.

Robbins said the note Barzile released never was written by Dorsey. The chief added:

"Barzile told me he didn't find any note in Dorsey's bedroom. Barzile said he released his statement to newsmen to relieve the pressure on Mrs. Dorsey."

The purported note read by Barzile was affectionate in tone. Barzile said it was addressed to Mrs. Dorsey.

Chief Robbins refused to disclose what Dorsey's actual note to his wife said.

British Ask For Probe Of Hostage Plot

Syria, Iraq Bristle Anew, Exchange Barbs; Showdown Seen Near

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Middle East continued to seethe with unrest today. In Egypt, a British official has appealed for a Red Cross investigation of reports that Egypt is holding one member of each Jewish family hostage in Port Said.

And in the two Arab countries of Syria and Iraq, drumbeat tension has increased steadily with the feeling growing that a break may come within a few days.

The Red Cross inquiry was requested by Harry Coe, British consul in Port Said as other protests were raised against reported Egyptian plans to deport British, French and Jewish residents from Egypt.

Egypt has denied that any mass expulsion is planned but said British and French nationals were placed under "restricted residence" for their own protection.

Coe said he called the British Foreign Office asking intervention by neutral Switzerland to find out from President Nasser what has happened to the missing Jews.

JEWISH RESIDENTS of Port Said, who number about 3,000, have reported that one member of each family was taken away by Egyptian police the night of Nov. 1. None has been heard from since. British-French troops landed in the canal zone Nov. 5.

Coe said the secret police seized a number of Jewish leaders in raids in other Egyptian cities. The consul appealed for help through the Swiss Red Cross because Egypt has severed relations with Britain and no longer recognizes the consulate.

Israel's foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, sent an appeal to the head of the U. N. General Assembly asking intervention on behalf of the Jews in Egypt.

She said some 30,000 Jews were liable to be deported and declared such action would violate the human rights provision of the U. N. Charter.

A Greek steamship arrived in Athens with 400 British, French and Jewish passengers. Some said the Egyptians had forced them to sign statements before departing that they were leaving voluntarily, but they knew they would be jailed if they remained.

Meanwhile, in the Arab countries, informed circles saw the likelihood of an open coup by the army clique that has taken control of Syria in recent weeks. The army faction, pro-Soviet although non-Communist, is led by Col. Abdul Hamid Saraj.

THERE WERE increasing signs of unrest. A Baghdad dispatch quoted a government statement as saying two civilians were killed and a number of policemen and civilians hurt in a demonstration at Najaf, a Moslem holy city in (Continued on Page Two)

"HELMET FOR AN ARMY COOK"

A few years ago Dr. Schwine conducted a poll to find out exactly what happened to the soldiers who were once Army Cooks. Here are the results. (a) 25 percent of these men were working as flavor consultants in dog food factories. (b) 30 percent were employed as garbage inspectors. (c) 20 percent went to Medical School under the G. I. Bill and became Doctors specializing in intestinal disorders. (d) 15 percent were manufacturing paint removers, and (e) the remaining 10 percent held down various jobs like stomach pump operators, Undertakers and Ballet dancers. However, there's the possibility that thousands of these men are actually working as chefs in restaurants all over the country, because this poll could be wrong. But I hope it isn't.

Burglars Enter 2 County Firms During Night

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today was investigating two burglaries that took place in this area during the night.

One of the breakins was at a service station about two miles south of Circleville on Route 23. The other was at an auto parts store on Route 22 near Williamsport.

The service station breakin netted burglars more than a dozen times, an undetermined amount of oil, lighter fluid and other articles. Burglars entered the building by forcing a side door. The entry and theft was discovered this morning when the station operator opened for business.

AT The auto parts store, thieves made off with an old type cash register which contained an estimated $40. They also removed about $80 in change from a box. The thieves gained entrance to the parts store by breaking a front door glass and then unlocking the door. This theft was also discovered when the firm opened this morning.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputy Dwight Radcliff, who investigated, said that similar type breakins were reported in Fayette and Ross counties and in Greenfield last night.

The law officers today were inclined to believe that the burglaries could have been pulled by the same gang.

Fire Department Answer Two Calls

City firemen extinguished two blazes within the past 24 hours, one yesterday evening and the other early this morning.

The fire yesterday was at the C. F. Replogle lot on W. High St. The blaze was reported at approximately 6:30.

Firemen were summoned when flames broke out in a portable office at the big equipment yard. Exact cause of the blaze was not determined, although firemen said it could have started in some straw that was near the small office.

Damage was estimated about $225.
The blaze this morning was at the Haacker residence, E. High St. where a chimney flue caught on fire. Firemen received the alarm at 6:50. No damage was reported.

Unity Seizure Measure Near Showdown Vote

John R. Rooney, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO Council, said: "If the governor jumps into a strike, collective bargaining will be undermined."

Rooney quoted remarks to Congress by the late Sen. Robert A. Taft against seizure powers during strikes.

Taft's son, Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr., a Judiciary Committee member, asked Rooney if the CIO had taken "any further steps against violence" in the protracted Ohio strike.

Rooney said responsible unionism is against violence. He added that "the general attitude in the Portsmouth area is favorable to the union."

Howard Metzbaum, former state legislator and counsel for the Ohio State Federation of Labor, said "this bill probably has more constitutional violations in it than any other piece of legislation I have observed."

OHIO CONSOLIDATED officials expressed opposition to the proposal. Clare E. Williams, company president, and Sidney Griffith, company attorney, testified at the hearings.

Griffith gave a detailed account of what he said was rock-throwing and cable-cutting incidents that resulted in the company closing exchanges in the Portsmouth area. He blamed lack of law enforcement or the closings.

Police Chief Fred Brown and Mayor Vernal G. Riffe Sr., of New Boston, a Portsmouth suburb, answered subpoenas for testimony. But Portsmouth Police Chief Hugh Ruddy refused to answer a subpoena on grounds of ill health.

Rep. Kenneth Robinson (R-Marion), committee chairman, said that the question of a contempt citation against Ruddy "is not a dead issue."

In his testimony, Williams said the company would reopen the service if the Ohio National Guard were sent to Portsmouth, though he insisted that the company had not asked for the National Guard and contended that it would not be a prerequisite for the company to reopen the service.

Griffith told the committee that Lausche had said the company should return and restore service—"get hurt first" before the state would move in to help. "We ask no one to guarantee us protection. We want only normal police protection — effective law enforcement," he said.

Griffith asserted that Lausche had promised "no augmentation" of police protection before the company should try again to provide service. "We did that before and we were lucky to get all our people out alive," he declared.

He said the company wanted to restore "full service" and not a limited or emergency service. He said the needs for law and order would be no greater in either case.

Baruzzi's wife, Margherita, told Federal Judge Paul Jones Tuesday that she was in the house by the "will of God" and felt constrained to stay there as long as possible.

But the 75-year-old judge, speaking kindly, quoted St. Peter as telling early Christians to "obey every ordinance of man."

He also told Mrs. Baruzzi that if God wanted her to stay in the house He surely "would have communicated with me, knowing that I would have to decide the matter."

The Baruzzi lawyers later told the judge they believed his words had helped reconcile Mrs. Baruzzi to the inevitable.

The government has deposited $56,000 to pay the family for their property. The eviction notice is effective at midnight Saturday.

Dimond declared that people in Cleveland had caused him to lose a job as an airplane mechanic and kept him from getting a license as a life insurance examiner. He did not identify the people.

Last July, Mrs. Miller abandoned her husband, Jerome, a trailer camp operator, and their children to move in with Dimond and his wife who then lived in suburban Westlake.

Shortly after that, Common Pleas Judge Samuel H. Silbert ordered Mrs. Miller to return home for a "90-day cooling-off period" and told Dimond to stay away from her.

After a week or two, Mrs. Miller asked the judge to release her from the order. He finally did.

Later, Miller got a divorce. The Miller children, all girls, range from 5 to 14 years old.

Cost Of City's Police, Fire Units Far Above Average

Ohio's Auditor Rhodes Says Statewide Normal Is Only 20 Percent For Operating 2 Branches

One dollar out of every five paid out by Ohio cities for operating expenses last year—on the average—went for police and fire departments. But in Circleville the cost so far this year is running higher.

The 1955 statewide average was announced by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. In Circleville, City Auditor Lillian Young revealed, total cost of the police and fire departments up to the first of this month was taking more than half the city's operating expenditure.

Miss Young's figures also disclosed that operation of the Circleville police department so far this year has cost more than twice as much as the fire department.

In the report by Rhodes, the total expenditure of 141 Ohio cities last year for operation, maintenance and interest was $345,217,012. And of this amount, $37,882,983 went for police departments and $30,897,629 for fire departments. High cost of operating Circleville's police department is no exception to the statewide picture.

THROUGHOUT Ohio, police departments last year were the biggest single item of municipal expense. Water systems ranked second in high costs—$34,118,894. And fire department costs were third.

Miss Young's figures were for the current year up to November 1.

For the 10-month period, Circleville's police department cost $47,808.92, while the fire branch cost $20,895.89. Total cost of operating the two departments up to November 1 thus came to $68,504.81.

Total city operations for the first 10 months, Miss Young reported, cost $124,209.36.

Across the state, according to the Rhodes report, per capita expenditures for police protection vary widely. Among the largest 10 cities, they range from $5.45 in Akron to $11.74 in Cleveland for every man, woman and child. These figures are based on the 1950 census.

Following Cleveland comes Youngstown with a per capita cost of $8.10 for police protection; Cincinnati, $8.16; Toledo, $7.71; Dayton, $7.66; Columbus, $6.61; Springfield, $6.33; Canton, $5.67, and Lakewood, $5.46.

OTHER major expenses, in the operation of cities were:

Transit systems, six in Cleveland and its suburbs, $26,734,143.72; street and sidewalk repair, $22,381,945.87; electric plants, $18,765,923.86; hospitals and infirmaries, $17,852,395.93; garbage and refuse disposal, $17,377,101.56; general government, city offices, $14,945,840.25; debt interest, $16,611,444.69; municipal universities (Cincinnati, Toledo and Akron), $13,689,705.22; sewers and sewage disposal, $11,581,186.43; recreation, $11,134,189.08.

Public employees' pensions, $7,567,406.71; street lighting, $7,020,168.64; poor relief, $6,050,794.04; police pensions, $4,488,678; firemen's pensions, $4,214,474.22; street cleaning, $4,281,215.37; municipal courts, $3,745,808.74.

In addition to $345,217,012 spent by cities for operation, maintenance and interest, they paid out $338,610,266 to retire bonds, and $151,089,695 for capital improvements.

Operating costs, including interest, were $16,856,330 higher in 1955 in the cities than they were in 1954.

Circleville Motorist Fined, Jailed After Changing Plea To Guilty

Today's roundup of cases in Circleville Municipal Court included a hearing for a local man who changed his plea from innocent to guilty on a driving when intoxicated accusation.

Charles R. Wolfe, 21, Circleville, was bound over to the grand jury on $200 bond earlier this month when he entered a plea of innocent to the "drunk" driving accusation. A few days later the man changed his plea to guilty.

After changing his plea, Wolfe was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driving rights suspended for six months. The arrest was made by city police.

TRAFFIC violators cited by the state patrol were as follows:

Lona Boyer, 51, Circleville; $25 and costs for operating a vehicle with license plates belonging to the former car owner.

Carol Kutler, 35, Circleville; $20 and costs for speeding at 45 in a 25 mile zone. The court suspended $10 of the fine.

Leroy A. Rhinesmith, 58, Columbus, Clyde M. Valentine, 24, Chillicothe, and Dominick Zeoli, 25, Ypsilanti, Mich.; each fined $15 and costs for speeding at 75.

Chester O. Brown, 21, Orient Route 1, was fined $10 and costs for failure to yield the right of way. He was arrested by the sheriff's department.

Donald Hanley, 24, Circleville, was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation. He was arrested by city police.

British Ask For Probe Of Hostage Plot

Damascus dispatches quoted an Iraqi who claimed to be a refugee as saying Iraqi army officers had attempted a "mutiny" against the present regime in Baghdad. He said this occurred 12 days ago in protest against permitting British planes to refuel to Habbaniya air base.

The refugee claimed demonstrations flared in Baghdad and other cities when the people learned the officers were arrested, and that "dozens" of people were killed and wounded.

The Syrian-Iraqi crisis built up in a continuing exchange of bitter charges. Jordan's decision to cut its ties with Britain and consider closer relations with Russia underlined the possibility of deeper Soviet penetration into the fermenting Middle East.

Iraq accuses Syria of conducting a subversive campaign against the government of Iraqi Premier Nuri Said, an opponent of Soviet moves to extend its middle east influence.

Syria charges Iraq with seeking to destroy the governments of both Syria and Jordan.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

Words on signs long have been used to control and direct traffic. As traffic began to move at faster speeds, shapes of signs also were used to convey information to motorists. It wasn't long before symbols were substituted for words on many signs, because fast-moving motorists could not read and understand the words on a sign.

But another component of highway signs — color — has not been standardized as rapidly as the words, shapes and symbols. It was only two years ago that red was adopted as the standard color for stop signs. Even today one can see many yellow signs that are used to indicate a stop.

The state of Washington recently adopted four standard colors for use on traffic signs. The action was taken because Washington officials realize that motorists react to the color of a sign almost as fast—and sometimes faster—than they react to the shape of a sign or the words on them.

IN THE state of Washington, now only red is used on stop signs; yellow is used for warning signs, such as CURVE and SLOW; signs that regulate, like SPEED LIMIT —35 MILES, are white; and green is used for directional signs, like POTTSVILLE 3 MILES or DALLAS NEXT LEFT.

Turnpikes have been using green for directional signs for years, but Washington is the first state to incorporate the color into a complete traffic network to make uniform the color's meaning.

Rex G. Still, departmental engineer in charge of the new four-color system, says the state took a leaf from railroad traffic control practice in adopting the new system. "The railroads have been using color signals to inform engineers of track situations for years," Still said.

"The new colors used on our highways will allow motorists to recognize road conditions long before the signs can be read and sometimes even before the shape of the sign can be clearly distinguished." Reflectors of the signs allows the drivers' recognition during nighttime driving as well as in the daylight hours. Washington's four-color system

U.S. Missionary Work Curtailed

Factory Housekeeping Costs Show Rise As Profits Shrink

NEW YORK — Housekeeping costs more these days in the nation's factories and mills and stores. And so does the replacing of outworn plants and outdated machinery or the building and outfitting of new shops and shopping centers.

The squeeze is on. Shrinking profit margins show it. Most companies have to sell more today than they did a year ago if they want to make as high a profit, and sometimes profits slip even though sales totals rise.

When firms want to grow by adding new plants and machinery or to keep up with competitors who may sport newer and more efficient equipment, they find out how much more it costs than when they started up. That's what all the hue and cry over depreciation allowances is about.

The new firm seeking to take root finds itself at a handicap because the older competitor may be using buildings and facilities that cost much less to build or to install.

Yet the demands of a growing population indicates that new firms, both big and small, must be added in the next few years.

Plant maintenance costs are shooting up. The publication Factory Management and Maintenance predicts a continuing rise the rest of the year. In a survey of maintenance, labor and material costs, the magazine says that in September there were particularly sharp increases in prices for some fabricated metal products.

The cost of maintaining buildings and facilities is 6.2 per cent higher today than the average cost in 1955 and the cost of maintaining equipments rose 8.3 per

Protestants Plan Drive For Hungary

NEW YORK — Protestant churches throughout the nation will be asked to give $325,000 before Christmas to help feed and clothe Hungarian refugees in Austria.

Dr. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, announced the relief campaign Tuesday after his return from a visit to Austrian refugee centers.

Church World Service is the overseas relief arm of the National Council of Churches. Most of the large Protestant denominations are council members.

Canadian Dollar Worth About $1.04 U.S. Now

Yankee Cash Flows Northward, Causing Change In Valuation

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The Canadian dollar is worth about four cents more in today's market than the American dollar.

This doesn't mean that the American dollar is losing any of its prestige in other lands—it is still the most sought after currency in the world today.

It does mean that Canada's vast postwar expansion is catching its second breath—that American dollars are flowing northward.

The flow has been particularly large in recent days because Canadians have been borrowing in the U. S. capital market—interest rates are even higher north of the border.

As these borrowed American dollars are exchanged for Canadian dollars to go to work there, the exchange rates reflect this large supply and the Canadian dollar on Monday rose to $1.0417, just a shade under the high of $1.0434 in August 1952 when a previous great spurt in investment in Canada was under way.

Some American businessmen watch this rise nervously. They wonder if the more expensive Canadian dollar may put any pressure for still higher prices on the things they buy from Canada—such as newsprint, woodpulp, metals, oil and chemicals.

Some Canadians also watch this rush of American dollars northward with concern. They know that investment funds are needed to develop Canada's vast natural resources. But they fret because the profits from this development may flow southward in future years. For a time last summer this was a prime political issue in Canada. Many contended that U. S. corporations should let Canadians buy into their subsidiaries there.

Americans aren't the only ones investing in Canada these days. There has been a flight of capital from Europe. Investors there feel the money will be safer in Canada than in troubled Europe.

The U. S. Department of Commerce puts U. S. direct investments in Canada at the end of 1955 at 6 billion dollars—a sizable chunk of the total of 19 billion throughout the world.

Canada's dollar owes its present high rating largely to this investment. This year our northern neighbor is running a commodity trade deficit, imports topping exports by one billion dollars—more than double what it was in 1955.

By itself this factor would weaken the Canadian dollar—just as the trade gap weakens the British pound. But the flow of foreign capital to Canada has more than made up the difference and put the Canadian dollar at a premium.

20 Refugees Shot By Red Soldiers

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungarians escaping to Austria saw the bodies of 20 refugees who had been shot in the woods near the border, the Austrian press agency reports.

The Austrian Cabinet was informed that 2,562 more refugees escaped into this little country Monday night, bringing the total close to 90,000 since Hungary's freedom revolt began.

The Austrian press agency, in reporting the shooting of those seeking to escape, quoted refugees as saying the Russians refused to permit the burial of the 20 bodies seen in the woods. The Russians apparently hoped the sight would frighten other refugees and cause them to turn back from the border.

Newlyweds Held In Drug Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus police arrested a newlywed couple Tuesday night for questioning in the alleged smuggling of drugs into Ohio Penitentiary.

Arrested were Robert Dean King, 26, a penitentiary parolee and a wholesale drug firm employee, and his wife, Lola Virginia, 22. They were married seven weeks ago.

Penitentiary guard Olen E. Roshon, 54, of Basil, was arrested last week when he arrived for work. Police said they found several hundred pills and capsules of two mild drugs in his lunch box.

He was bound to the Franklin County Grand Jury on a charge of illegally conveying drugs into the penitentiary.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 23 and my husband is 29. We have been married eight years and have three children, ages 6 and 3 years, and 18 months, respectively. We have been very good friends of another couple who have three children the same age as ours. My husband was engaged at one time to the other wife—I'll call her Sue who is 27.

Sue has always been real nice to me, and I know she wouldn't do anything to break up my marriage, but the problem is my husband.

Recently Sue and her children came to spend a couple of days with us. We had put all the children to bed when she came into our bedroom and asked if my husband could unzip her dress. So he did; but as I was right there I think I should have been the one to do it.

Next morning after I had given Sam breakfast and packed his lunch, we went to our bedroom to wait for his ride. (He belongs to a car pool). He left me there and went into Sue's bedroom, and sat with her with all the lights on.

Later I told him it didn't look right and he blew his top. He said they were such good friends and he and I both know that nothing went on; and I shouldn't even say my piece about it. Now we are mad at each other.

T. R.

DEAR T. R.: The recent turn of events makes plain that Sam's old fiancée, Sue, is about as reliable as a rattlesnake where you and her husband are concerned.

Her unblushing intrusion into your bedroom, to ask Sam to unzip her dress when the whole household was preparing for sleep, can only be construed as a ruthless brazen sex maneuver, intended to tempt him with suggestive ideas.

Evidently Sam got the point of her sly coquetry, which explains his abrupt impromptu visit to her room, early next day. They were playing with fire and well aware of it—taking sneaky advantage of her husband's absence, while also taking for granted that you are either too innocent or too helpless.

Walter Schumann Seriously Ill

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Musical director Walter Schumann was hospitalized today by cardiac asthma. He collapsed Tuesday in NBC's Hollywood offices and was revived by a fire department oxygen squad. His doctor said he would have to remain in the hospital several days.

Schumann, 50, heads a choral group known as the "Voices of Walter Schumann;" is musical director of the TV show "Dragnet," wrote the "Dragnet" theme, and is musical director of the Ford show originating in Hollywood on Thursday night.

to call a halt on this kind of mischief—in the name of decency and common sense.

When you told Sam it didn't look right, you were stating the simple truth, as all disinterested married persons will agree. And Sam blew his top because he felt guilty and ashamed, and without a shred of moral defense, of himself or her.

"Now we are mad at each other," you say. Well, don't reproach yourself for that. Your protest was proper and justified. Any good wife would have taken a blunt stand against that sort of thing, recognizing by instinct that it was wrong—and wrongly motivated.

Sam hasn't made a very bright showing, whether judged as husband or friend—and he is supposed to be a friend of Sue's husband, I gather. Probably the less you see of that couple, the better. Apparently Sue is fairly unstable and unscrupulous, hence a problem personality at close range.

Indiana Boy Is 'Corn Prince'

CHICAGO (AP)—An Indiana boy has been crowned "corn prince" at the International Livestock Exposition.

He is David Lux of Shelbyville, Ind., who displayed Indiana $44 variety to attain his title. His dad, Frank W. Lux, was the reserve corn king this year.

Reserve corn prince is Harley Doubet of Hanna City, Ill., who entered with D41 variety.

Israel Says Egypt To Deport Jews

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Israeli Ministry source says Egypt contemplates a mass expulsion of Jews. He said Israel plans to protest to the United Nations.

Egypt has made no announcement of any expulsion order and has denied a British Foreign Office report that 13,000 British nationals and 5,000 holders of French passports would be deported from Egypt. Estimates here put the number of Jews still in Egypt at 50,000.

Egyptian Information Director Abdel Kader Hatem said British and French nationals had been "put under restricted residence for a time" to safeguard them from angry Egyptians. He said they were "being allowed to leave Egypt if they want to."

New Minimum Wages Slated For Dec. 5

COLUMBUS (AP)—New minimum wages for women and minors working in Ohio's food and lodging industries go into effect Dec. 5.

The minimums were adopted after a public hearing by a newly-created wage board Nov. 19, when testimony on the board's recommendations was heard.

The director, Miss Margaret A. Mahoney, conferred with James M. Murphy, superintendent of the minimum wage division, before issuing an order approving the board's recommendations. There was little opposition expressed at the public hearing.

Under the order, the basic work week is 48 hours. Service employees, who customarily receive tips, must be paid a minimum of 55 cents an hour. Non-service employees must be paid 70 cents an hour.

The rates are higher for part-time employees, who work 30 hours per week or less. Parttime service employees must be paid 60 cents an hour and non-service employees 75 cents an hour.

The wage order covers all restaurants including those operated by boards of education and other governmental subdivisions, hotels, motels, apartment houses, tourist homes, boarding houses, rooming houses, hospitals, sanitariums, rest homes and clubs.

It covers soda fountains that serve food but not soda fountains that do not serve food.

What You Do Not Know Can Be Asset

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—What you don't know won't hurt you, the axiom goes. Sometimes it helps.

A man sat down at the counter in Mrs. John Cannelles' candy store here and asked for pencil and paper. He wrote a note to Mrs. Cannelles, but she laughingly handed it back to him, saying:

"I can't read English."

In utter disgust, the man threw the note on the floor and left.

Mrs. Cannelles, who was born in Springfield but educated in Greece from infancy, handed the note to a customer. The message:

"This is a holdup."

South Africa Tells U.N.: 'Hands Off'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—South Africa has announced it would maintain a partial boycott of the U. N. until the world organization stopped "interference" in the country's internal affairs.

Eric H. Louw, foreign minister of South Africa, told the 79-nation General Assembly that beginning Tuesday the South African delegation would be reduced to a token basis.

He announced the decision at the end of a bitter attack on the U. N. for what he called violation of the rights of South Africa repeatedly taking up the racial situation in his country.

When in the current course of natural human events, it becomes necessary to gather together foods for the Thanksgiving season hospitality and maintenance, we find almost every kind of "main dish" foods plentiful. The USDA predicts that we will be eating real well!

Even though turkey is a year around popular food item, roast turkey for the holidays is as American as Plymouth Rock. It is the logical choice for transforming any meal into a special occasion.

According to Marketing Information for Consumers from Ohio State University, this year's turkey should cost no more and maybe a little less than last year's. It has been estimated that there are about one-sixth more turkeys this year than last.

Today's modern turkey is broad breasted, meaty, and available in sizes from 4 to 24 pounds. This makes it possible for the small family and the large one to enjoy turkey, for an attractive price, without too many days of planning.

The small family may want to consider their turkey purchase in: halves, quarters, cut-up, or by the piece.

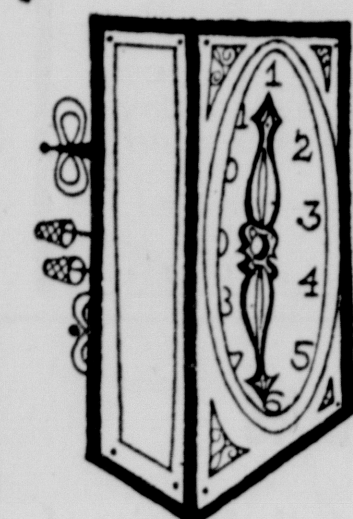

Fresh turkey will keep two to three days in the coldest part of the refrigerator. It should be wrapped loosely in aluminum foil, parchment, or waxed paper.

Frozen turkey should be kept frozen until cooking time.

Did you know that—two-thirds of today's mature turkey is white meat and one-third dark meat; the dark meat contains more than twice as much riboflavin as the light; the light meat contains about twice as much niacin as the dark? To be brief, turkey can provide outstanding nutrition. Aside from the B vitamins, just mentioned, it contains high quality protein, iron, and other important minerals.

A colorful, nutritious and delicious accompaniment for turkey is the Cranberry. The big crop of cranberries this fall means a plentiful supply for homemakers to freeze for year 'round use in sauce, relish, jelly, pies, and puree. The frozen product has a brighter color and fresher flavor than canned cranberries.

Eggs are on the market at peak rates. They too can serve as a "main dish" any day in the year and any meal in the day—or a valuable constituent for many food preparations. Let's always remember that the hen puts the same nutrient in each egg whether it be small or large, brown or white.

Humphrey Bogart Back In Hospital

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Humphrey Bogart is in St. John's Hospital for treatment of a nerve pressure condition which followed a cancer operation.

The 55-year-old actor underwent surgery last March for removal of a growth on his esophagus.

A statement from his doctor said Bogart has been admitted "for treatment of nerve root pressure due to excessive scar formation following previous surgery." The physician said he didn't know how long Bogart would be in the hospital.

Cincinnati Youth Kills Father, 57

CINCINNATI — Police have held 19-year-old Elvin Ford in the shooting death of his cab driver father, Alex, 57, after what investigators said was an argument at the Ford home.

Officers said Elvin's brother, Alex Ford Jr., 17, told them the elder Ford razed Elvin after the youth failed to find a job and this developed into a fight between father and son over a pistol. The younger Ford said the tussle and fatal shooting came while he and his mother were in another room.

Russian Newsman Reports On His Visit To America

MOSCOW — Vladimir L. Kudryavtzev reported Tuesday he was most annoyed in the United States by the shrill whistles hotel doormen use to call taxis.

Kudryavtzev is one of three Russians who observed the American presidential election as guests of the State Department. An editor of Izvestia, he wrote in that government newspaper of his experiences.

His first article of a series omitted all mention of the election and concentrated on personal reactions. The American people, he wrote, "like ourselves, want peace most of all."

He complained—and his complaint had a familiar ring to persons who have the same trouble in the Soviet Union—that he was unable to visit any workers' homes in the United States, but saw only the homes of middle class businessmen who talked about making money.

Kudryavtzev found he liked the American people, though he was surprised at seeing girl students in a Louisville high school wearing lipstick and chewing gum and a librarian in another school wearing a brightly colored sports shirt with pictures of school buildings printed on it.

On the credit side he praised such things as the Rocky Mountains, express highways, the Grand Canyon, a Chicago skyscraper whose elevators whisked him up 41 floors in 25 seconds, and the Golden Gate Bridge.

On the debit side, the Izvestia editor wrote that he failed to visit the deep South "where most of the Negroes live," he caught only a glimpse of Chicago's slums and poor housing conditions in Los Angeles from a distance.

He wrote that demonstrations against him and his two companions in Ann Arbor, Mich., Wichita, Kan., and Denver because of the Soviet intervention in Hungary were not carried out by "real American people."

Commonwealth Said Shaken

OTTAWA, Ont. — Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson told the House of Commons Tuesday that at one point after the British-French intervention in Egypt the British commonwealth was "on the verge of dissolution."

The commonwealth consists of Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan and Ceylon. It includes the federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, along with colonies, protectorates and territories under trusteeship.

Pearson's speech followed up one by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent criticizing the "big powers," including Britain and France, for actions in Egypt.

Yanks Eating Own Weight In Meat Now

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Americans, on the average, now eat their weight or more in beef, pork, lamb and veal each year, General Manager Carl F. Neumann of the National Live Stock and Meat Board reported.

Addressing the livestock conference at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 38th annual convention here, Neumann said meat consumption in the United States has reached a record high of 162 to 163 lbs per person.

Within nine years, he predicted, the average will jump to 168 lbs per person.

Describing the national board, Neumann said its job is to supply information not only on the nutritive value of meat, but also on how to buy, care for, store, cook, serve and plan menus around meat.

The board, located in Chicago, is composed of livestock growers and feeders, meat packers, retailers, restaurateurs and marketing agencies, he said.

Discussion of the farmer's responsibility in meat promotion, was conducted by a panel composed of F. G. Ketner, Producers Livestock Assn., Columbus; J. R. Kimber, DAYTON — Wilbur Tipton, 30, and his 11-month-old daughter, Leona Sue, were found dead Tuesday in a Dayton apartment apparently of gas asphyxiation.

Coroner Dr. Robert E. Zipt said Mrs. Tipton, 29, was found unconscious in the apartment and was rushed to a Dayton hospital where her condition is serious.

DECONTAMINATING WATER

SCIENCE HAS discovered a method of making water contaminated by an atomic bomb explosion safe for emergency drinking purposes, it was revealed at the 130th national meeting of the American Chemical Society at Atlantic City. One quart of water can be treated at a cost of less than 10 cents.

This discovery, of little more than academic interest at the moment, could become of utmost importance in event of a national crisis. The process also could prove of great importance in treating radiation-contaminated water resulting from improper disposal of atomic wastes from atomic furnaces or research installations and hospitals.

Satisfactory results have been achieved in small scale experiments with the procedure at the atomic laboratories in Oak Ridge, Tenn. In those tests, William J. Lacy, a scientist associated with the Army Corps of Engineers, said, tiny beads called ion exchange resins neutralized more than 98 per cent of radiation contaminants that might be expected from "fall out," or "wash in," of A-bombs of the Hiroshima type.

Ion exchange resins are used in home water softening installations and in many commercial processes. The decontamination process is effective when initial concentration of radioactivity is not more than 10 times maximum safe tolerance limits.

Obviously this attempt to explain an involved chemical process omits many technical details, but even the most fearful will find it reassuring to learn that a method of decontaminating drinking water in case of an atomic attack has been found.

OLYMPIC GAMES

THE QUADRENNIAL Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia, are being staged in an atmosphere hardly designed to promote the intended international amity. There is the rivalry between the United States and Russia which has become traditional since World War II, a "goldfish bowl" version of their desperate antagonism on the international political scene.

This year's Olympics have also seen open antagonism between the Russian delegation and the athletes from Soviet oppressed Hungary. It has seen the withdrawal of several European nations in anger at Soviet treatment of Hungary.

And over all has been the vexing disputes over who was a bona fide amateur and who was not. But before junking the whole thing as a farce it might be well to remember that the original Olympics didn't eliminate the suicidal wars of the Greek cities, one against another. The Olympics first recorded in 776 B. C., were held on the Olympic plain of southern Greece in honor of the great god Zeus.

By common agreement truces were arranged in wars and Greek youths who had been fighting each other one day competed peacefully in athletic events the next. Then they went back to their wars at the end of the games.

That's about what the modern Olympics amount to. If their overly enthusiastic advocates in the past hadn't made unrealistic claims about the contributions of the games to international affairs, the world wouldn't be so disappointed about the current reality.

On Same Payroll 80 Years --By Hal Boyle

CORNING, N. Y. (AP)—Frank J. Hultzman is a man who looked for steady work and did a better job of finding it than perhaps any other living American.

At 92 Hultzman, a retired glass blower who turned out some of the world's first electric light bulbs, has been on the same payroll 80 consecutive years.

A spokesman for the Corning Glass Works said, "this service record is believed to be the longest continuous employment record in American industry."

Hultzman, a blue-eyed, Buddha-faced little man with a pockmarked nose and a white cap (even in the house) to protect his bald head from the cold, may well have hung up another record along the way. In the last 80 decades he has chewed about 60,000 packs of tobacco.

He started chewing tobacco at 12 the same day he went to work in the glass works in 1876 during the last year of President U. S. Grant's second administration.

"He never missed a day of work in his life and he never missed a day of chewing tobacco," said Mrs. Edna Sullivan, his widowed daughter. "He'll still chew two packs a day if I let him."

At the start of his career he was paid $3.30 for a 55-hour week. Glass blowing is hot work, and in those informal days one of his chores was to "rush the growler," that is, fetch beer so the thirsty gaffers, or master glassmakers, could cool their pipes.

Hultzman is one of the few surviving workmen who can remember the birth of the electric age. He was on the scene in 1879 when the first glass "bubbles" were blown to enclose the glowing filaments with which Thomas A. Edison revolutionized lighting.

Soon, as a gaffer himself, he and two helpers were turning out 1,200 light bulbs a day.

His life story is the simple saga of a man who found happiness in his own hometown. One job, one wife, five children.

Hultzman has a cane but won't carry it. He has a pair of reading glasses, but won't put them on. He has two sets of false teeth, but won't wear them. Says he'll gum it the rest of the way.

"But he can eat anything, including steak," said his daughter. On fine days the old man likes to walk to a hill overlooking the plant where he worked so many years.

"I can remember they used to pay us in gold pieces . . . I used to like to go berry picking in the hills . . . I could get me a quart of blueberries or blackberries in no time—chestnuts, too—and now there aren't any in the hills.

"In those days it was work, work, work on the job . . . they have it easier now . . . but when you do your work, you're all right."

Asked what he thought about the world today, the nation's marathon jobholder said:

"It's going pretty fast. If it's got any better, it's because we tried this and we tried that and we tried, anyway.

"Ain't anything bothers me. I'm happy."

He has 29 living descendants, including his son, "Dutch," who has been 56 years on the glass works payroll and, at 70, is showing signs of settling down and staying put.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

This is the era of the weak and backward nations as the great empires fall apart. Many of the weak and backward nations have always been weak and backward, have been conquered by one empire builder after another; others have once been great powers themselves but have become fossilized, usually through some historical misstep, some assumption of superiority which could not be sustained by manpower, by natural resources or by intelligent leadership.

Whenever empires fall apart, the weak and backward nations assert themselves and for them there is often the sympathy that is customary for the underdog among those who are not underdogs, just as many individuals who possess great wealth seek outlets for their guilty consciences and sometimes do unbelievable mischief by their activities.

We are moving through such a period now and what will come out of it only our grandchildren will know. What we witness, however, is the building of the Soviet Empire which is already having trouble on its periphery and the building of the Red Chinese Empire which, at the moment, continues to be stronger, having only recently added to its territory a chunk of Burma, after having made Nepal an ally. Beyond that everything is speculative.

India, for instance, has aspired to build an Asian-African federation of States and the Bandung Conference was called to effectuate that, but, in the broadest sense, Bandung failed except in one respect: it did stimulate and accelerate an anti-"white" movement in Asia and Africa and it made colonialism a very bad word if practiced by any country except Soviet Russia and Red China.

Nehru then adopted the role of middle-man between East and West, a dangerous role at any time. His agent has been Krishna Menon, a typical babu, that is an English-speaking, English-clothed Hindu who apes Europeans but hates them.

His personality may be appreciated in Moscow but nowhere else with the result that rather than effectuating better understanding between East and West, he has become an international disturber of the peace, what colloquially would be called a pain in the neck. It does not at present seem as though Nehru will succeed in forming the Asian-African Federation.

Tito also had ambitions which appear to have petered out, although it is impossible to be sure. His ambition was to divorce a number of Soviet satellites from the Kremlin and to unite them into a socialist group of countries which would accept the paradoxical doctrine of nationalistic Communism.

Tito gained enormous prestige from the fact that after being supported by the West, receiving, for instance, about one billion dollars of aid from the United States, he nevertheless was received in Soviet Russia as a conquering hero.

However, the growth of Titoism in Hungary, Poland and other Soviet satellites put Moscow on its guard to fight Titoism as a dangerous schismatic tendency. The blood bath in Hungary is an example of the seriousness with which the Kremlin regards Titoism.

The weak and backward countries naturally hope that they will become strong and progressive countries. Some may. Some of the present great powers will become small powers, as the great Spanish Empire of Ferdinand and Isabella has now receded to the smaller nation under Franco, or as the enormous Greek Empire of Alexander the Great has receded to the small country we know as Greece.

Twenty years from now, it is predicted, all roads motorists ride over will be free. After paying gas, oil, rubber and dozens of other taxes, that is.

CHAPTER 1

CASSON wondered why the banker was getting drunk. Henry Lockyer never permitted himself to become intoxicated by anything, especially in his Club. He was a reserved man: dry and unemotional, impeccably neat, precise, punctilious. All this admirably fitted a Director of Gamman's Bank, one of the last and most highly regarded private banks in the City of London.

It was because of this that Casson now speculated. The dining-room of the Club was half-empty. Beneath the two massive chandeliers which lit the long room, in this severely pillared, gold-and-blue atmosphere, anguish was seething inside a stolid banker.

"Evening, Mr. Duker," said George, the head waiter. Casson's full name was Alistair Casson Duker.

"I will have smoked trout," Casson said, glancing at the menu. "Then the calf's liver à la française." Cane's was famous among clubs for its good food. "Ask Daniel to step along, would you, George? I want a bottle of wine."

Daniel, the wine steward, was the oldest of the Club servants, a short, gray-haired man with a head like an eagle and a prodigious memory.

"I'll have a bottle of Moselle, Daniel," said Casson.

He returned to the pleasant itch of his curiosity about the banker. Lockyer always drank one glass of dry sherry before dinner and two glasses of claret with his dinner, sometimes less, never more. This evening Lockyer had drunk two double dry Martinis in fifteen minutes and was now staring upon his second large whisky.

Casson leaned back in his chair, sipped his wine, and let his curiosity increase. This itch to explore had accompanied him through life, and he indulged it wherever possible. Before going to a university it had led him to become a dish-washer in a cafe on the Avenue Kleber in Paris, and as an undergraduate he had joined an ornithologist's expedition to find the nesting colonies of the flamingo in the swamps of the Guadaluquivir. After the war, when he was demobilized from the Airborne Division, the itch had found a new excitement. He had been staying in Bath when rumor had come to him of an outbreak of mania in a village a few miles outside the city.

He had gone there for one night and had stayed a month. Those four weeks gave him a fascinating view of the margins of crime. He had begun to touch the somber border region where desire, infected by fear, becomes contemptuous of legality. He had excoriated himself of this particular nightmare by embodying it, suitably disguised, as an article on the persistence of pagan theophany. His Witch of Bath had been published in a London quarterly journal and had had its brief day of sensation. It had closed the case but it had not cured the itch. Casson searched for human oddities as another type of collector might seek after faked Rubens.

While he watched Lockyer, the itch told him that he had found another oddity.

Women drink because men drink or because they themselves are in physical pain: sometimes because they have lost a lover, more usually because they have lost their looks. They never drink when they are happy. Men drink for both reasons: to swell happiness or to dull misery. Lockyer was not happy: but why was he miserable?

He was a bachelor. Had he at last proposed and been refused? Had he become unbearably lonely, as bachelors sometimes do? Or had he—a far more intriguing speculation—had he committed some crime against his business ethics? There was an extensive range of possible disaster open to a banker.

Lockyer had put down his knife and fork and, with his head in his hands, he called:

"Daniel! Come here. Bring me some more whisky. Bring me two more . . ." His voice tailed off.

With satisfaction Casson finished his liver à la française, paid his bill, and went out into the Oval Room, settling into an armchair with a glass of Armagnac.

He was swilling the brandy round in his glass when Daniel came through from the dining-room. Casson lifted a finger and the old man came over to him.

"You may know, Daniel, if Mr. Lockyer has a room at the Club this evening?"

"No, sir. Oh, no, sir."

"I think, Daniel, that Mr. Lockyer and I will go home together. He has some port at his house which I wish to taste."

"Yes, sir."

It was some time before Lockyer appeared. When he did he was unsteady. He stared round the Oval Room, swaying slightly, then transferred his gaze to Casson. There was apparently some recognition. He lurched over and dropped into an arm-chair beside him.

"Howyou, Casson m'boy?" he said. "Have a whisky?"

Casson calculated. Lockyer was just drunk enough to be belligerent. Quiet men often were. Now was not the time to take him home. Another drink and he would be ready.

"Armagnac, thank you," he said. "Why not join me?"

"Rotten stuff," Lockyer said in a loud voice. "French stuff. Y'should only drink whisky. Daniel! Bring me a whisky. Magnac here for m'friend."

Lockyer leaned back and seemed to relax into a stupor. He jerked forward and muttered: "Foking and prying. Can't leave a man alone. Filthy minds they've got."

He took his drink from Daniel's tray and set it down carefully on the floor. Then he pointed at Casson.

"Lawyers'll tell you the greater truth greater the libel. Isn't true, Duker. Isn't true at all. Greater the lie greater the libel. Nothing succeeds like a lie. Nothing at all. I've proved it. You believe me. I'm telling you something. A lie's worth money. Truth's worth nothing. You believe me . . ."

The skeleton in his cupboard had begun to dance, but as yet it remained behind a shut door. Casson waited patiently.

With some difficulty, very slowly, Lockyer set his glass on the floor.

"Must go home," he muttered. "Feeling a bit ill."

He tried to get up but fell back into his chair.

Casson left him there and went down to the hall.

"Oh, Broom," he said to the head porter, "I'm going back home with Mr. Lockyer. Can you find his address? I've forgotten it. He's—er—not too well."

Broom found it in his card-index of members. Launceston Street, W. 8. Casson went back upstairs.

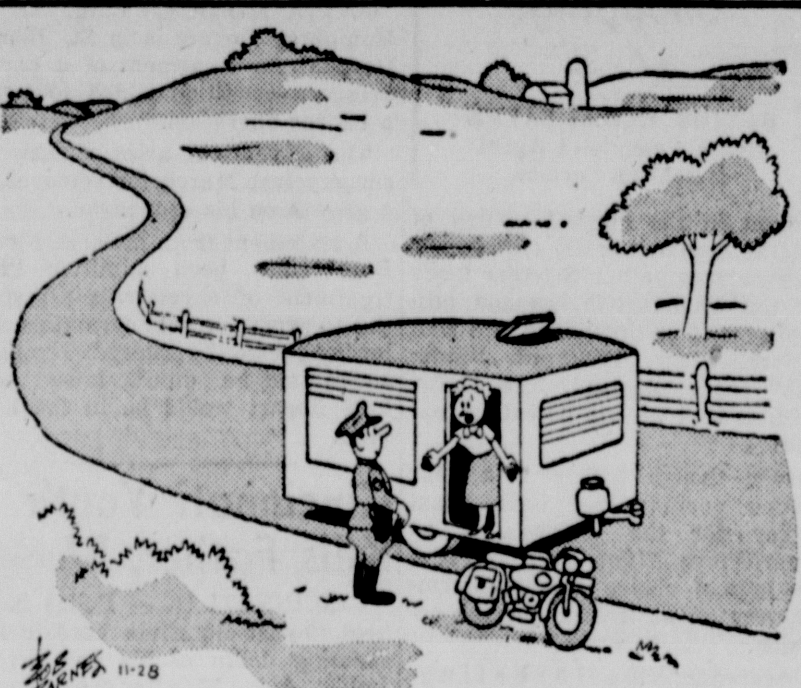

"I'm going home," he remarked. "I'll give you a lift."

Lockyer nodded and lurched toward the door of the Oval Room. At the head of the curving, double staircase down to the hall of the Club, Casson gave him a helping arm. Angry Lockyer threw it off but almost fell down the stairs. He made no further motion of protest as Casson helped him down, collected his bowler hat and umbrella, and steered him out into St. James's Street.

He said nothing while Casson drove him home, and Casson did not wish to interrupt his silence. His mind was busy with the problem of how to unlash Henry Lockyer's skeleton cupboard. The rattle of bones had raised his sense of curiosity to an insatiable pitch.

Casson discovers Lockyer's terrible secret tomorrow in Chapter 2 of "Small Venom."

Avoiding Constipation A Matter Of Training

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

REGULARITY is important in avoiding constipation, a fairly common ailment in this speeded-up world of today. Good functioning of the bowels, you see, actually is a matter of proper training and habit.

Specific Time

While everyone doesn't have the same bowel habits, I advise that you set aside a specific time every day to answer nature's call. If you can't find time in the evening, get up a little earlier in the morning. And don't be tense. Try to relax.

No matter how frequent are your movements, endeavor to establish regularity.

Regularity in eating is essential, also. If you eat all three meals at regular times each day your stomach will get to know when the food is coming.

It might be well to eat about the same amount for each meal. As a rule, it isn't advisable to eat a big supper after consuming only a light breakfast and a light lunch.

To supply the necessary bulk, I suggest you eat plenty of fruits and vegetables. If you have no intestinal trouble, eat at least the two different vegetables at both lunch and supper.

Potatoes are good, too. But don't substitute them for vegetables; eat them in addition to the others.

Either fresh or cooked fruits are good. And while fruit juices are fine, your body needs the natural bulk of the fruit itself for regularity.

Although meat, eggs, fish and poultry are low in residue, you need them to maintain a properly balanced diet.

Pint of Milk

Milk also is essential. Drink at least one pint a day.

Finally, remember that laxatives are artificial means of producing bowel movements. But always avoid any large doses of laxatives of any kind.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. B.: What causes nails to break easily?

Answer: There is a condition affecting the nails that runs in families. This causes the nails to be very fragile and easily broken. No treatment has been discovered for this condition.

Sometimes, arsenic, taken internally, is helpful, but this should be taken only under the two different vegetables at both direction of a physician.

Local Chapter Of DAC Conducts Luncheon-Meet

Business Held In King Home

The Colonel William Ball Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists held their last meeting of the Fall season.

Following a luncheon in Pickaway Arms, the group adjourned to the home of Mrs. Orion King of W. High St. for the business session.

Mrs. Richard Hedges, Regent, opened the meeting in ritualistic form, assisted by the Chaplain, Mrs. O. W. Finley. Mrs. Dhel Renick, flag chairman, led the group in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The treasurer reported that contributions had been sent to: Boy's Village, National Scholarship Awards Fund and National Headquarters Current Fund. Also that a donation was given to the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital to purchase cigarettes for one ward.

Mrs. Clarabelle Hughes was welcomed into the Chapter as a new member.

Mrs. John F. Zahn of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Orion King and Mrs. Frank B. Tompson of Columbus,

Westminster Unit Conducts Meet At YMCA Camp

Members of the Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church attended a "retreat" at Southside YMCA Camp of near Columbus.

The purpose of the "retreat" was for election of officers and planning the program for the coming year.

Those elected to office are: moderator, Charles Hedges; assistant moderator, Alice Dawson; clerk, Phyllis McCoard and treasurer, Danny Robinson.

Those attending the event were: Charles Hedges, Alice Dawson, Phyllis McCoard, Danny Robinson, Jack Mader, Douglas McCoard, Robert Bower, Dottie Boggs, Gloria Hamrick, Carolyn Hamrick, Roland Stucker, Bobby Hedges, Daniel Young, Sharon Hull, Terry Trone and Anne Adkins.

Nebraska Grange Conducts Meeting For Thanksgiving

The Thanksgiving session of the Nebraska Grange opened with the members singing, "Count Your Blessings."

Worthy Master Everett Beers presided during the business session. He announced that degrees would be conferred during April and August for new applicants for membership.

Arthur Sark presided for the discussion of being "public service" about the advantages available to our communities. Since the community is the "hub" of today's rural life, it merits the best that we can bring to it.

The group discussed the following topics, concerning public and private facilities designed to serve the rural districts: the fire department, two week interval calls of the county bookmobile, telephone service, protection by eliminating unsafe road hazards and police protection.

Don Collins, health chairman, was given constructive criticism for consideration in connection with drives for community funds.

The committee from the County Youth Grange, Don DeLong, Harold Furniss and Margaret Anderson, presented a plan for a memorial fund in honor of the late David O. Dowler. This fund will be converted into a building to be erected on the fairgrounds and used as the County Youth Center. It will also be available to worthy organizations.

An all Thanksgiving program was presented for the parents by the children, under the direction of Mrs. David Dill. The group opened the program by singing the hymn, "We Gather Together."

Dean Riegel recited "Thanksgiving Was Coming" for which Allen Dill gave "Something To Be Thankful For," and Janet Schneider presented "Thankful For the Little Things."

The group sang "Over the River and Through the Woods," and Lois Barr read the "Original Document of the First Thanksgiving." The program closed with Kathy Beers reciting "Thank You God."

"Safety First" for better living in the farm, home and community will be the slogan for the 7:30 p. m. December 4 meeting.

Those to serve on the refreshment committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Homer Reber, the Kelly Owens family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Collins, the Rev. C. L. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas and son Philip, Alice, Anna, and Harriet Weaver, David Hedges, Alma Jones, Blanche Glick, Mr. and Mrs. David Glick and Anna Mary Malone.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Senate is like a college in some ways. Freshmen members are subject to mild hazing. They can get an education if they work at it. And you never can be sure, when a crop of freshmen enrolls, which is the most likely to succeed.

The freshman class which signs up next January is, as usual, a mixed lot.

It numbers five Democrats and four Republicans. One of them, Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, signs himself a Democrat, but consistently gets along well with Republicans. The Nation magazine, which disapproves of him, recently called him "more conservative" than the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Two of the "freshmen" are repeaters. Republicans John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia have taken the course before.

This is no Ivy League class. Some of the senators elected Nov. 6 come from wealthy or socially prominent families, of course. Democrat Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, for instance, and Republican Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.

Two are second generation Americans — Jacob K. Javits of New York, product of an overwhelmingly Jewish neighborhood on New York's East Side.

Two are second — generation Americans — Lausche, whose parents came from Yugoslavia, and Republican Jacob K. Javits of New York, product of an overwhelmingly Jewish neighborhood of New York's East Side.

Of the newcomers, that leaves only one unaccounted for — Democrat John Carroll of Colorado. He's a former House member, a lawyer, and a veteran of both world wars.

What can be expected of these Senate replacements?

Well, President Eisenhower can expect firm support of his foreign policy from at least three Republicans: Cooper, until recently ambassador to India; Morton, a former assistant secretary of state under the present administration; and Javits, an all-out Ike man who has just carried an olive branch message from the President to Israel.

(Javits, a Jew, won election even though he condemned the British-French-Israeli push into Egypt.)

Revercomb? He campaigned as an Eisenhower backer. His reputation as a senator in the 1940s, however, was such that Thomas E. Dewey stirred up a storm by refusing to endorse Revercomb in one of Dewey's presidential campaigns.

As for the incoming Democrats: Number Clark and Church among the many rising young men in the party. (What a free-for-all there's going to be for the Democrats' 1960 presidential nomination.) Carroll is a hard-working

Hungarian Church Aiding Refugees

The pastor, the Rev. Laszlo Harangi, left Tuesday for Camp Kilmer where he is seeking permission to bring the refugees to Pittsburgh.

Walnut Kernel Kills Youngster

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Deputy coroner B. H. Weber said the death of 2-year-old Theresa Ann McConnell was due to strangulation after a walnut kernel lodged in her throat.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest T. McConnell Jr. of Edwardsville.

house graduate who refused to go along with Adlai Stevenson's ideas on stopping H-bomb tests and stopping the draft.

Talmadge? He figures to keep quiet for a while, then gradually to let loose in the gallus-snapping, fire-eating tradition of his father, "Old Gene." But with more restraint, better sureness of foot, more attention to the national scene.

Lausche? You try to predict what he will do. Ohio Democrats and Republicans alike have been trying to figure out Lausche for years.

2 Airlines Entering Bids For Short Hauls In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lake Central and North Central Airlines made rival bids before the Civil Aeronautics Board Tuesday for a route between Detroit and Lima, through Toledo.

Lake Central contended that Kokomo, Marion and Lafayette, Ind., and Marion, Ohio, need the one-plane service to and from Detroit that Lake Central proposes if awarded a Lima-Detroit extension.

North Central said its proposal offers better commuting flights for Detroit, Lima and Toledo businessmen and that this should be the "paramount consideration" of the board.

Attys. A. L. Grissard, for Lake Central, and Donald Rushford, for North Central, expressed these views in oral arguments.

The board also heard in support of Lake Central's application arguments by city and trade association representatives from Lima, Toledo, Detroit, the state of Ohio and aeronautics commission of Indiana. Spokesmen for Sens. Capehart and Jenner and Reps. Halleck, Brownson and Beamer, all Indiana Republicans and Rep. Mc-

Baldrige Back In State Pen

COLUMBUS (AP)—George S. Baldrige of near Washington C. H., a former Adams County sheriff, was readmitted to Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday to continue his one to 20-year sentence for first degree manslaughter.

Baldrige, convicted in Fayette County in the slaying of game protector Irvin J. Patrick, was sentenced to the penitentiary last March. He was released four days later on a stay of execution pending an appeal. After an appellate court upheld the conviction, Common Pleas Judge John P. High Court Eyes Parking Fee Case

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court Tuesday heard arguments, then took under study, the question of whether the city of Cincinnati can legally use increased parking meter fees to provide off-street parking.

The question was raised in a suit brought by Frank T. Garrett, a taxpayer who seeks to block the city's entry into the off-street parking business.

His attorney, James G. Andrews, termed increased parking meter rates as a "revenue plan" and said that the increased fees are not reasonable, and actually constitute a tax rather than a fee for traffic regulation.

Women Threatened With Jail Terms

Mike DiSalle Stays On As Top Ohio Dem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor, says he will remain titular head of his party in the state.

But he adds:

"I doubt very much that I ever will be a candidate for public office in Ohio again."

DiSalle made the pronouncement before Democratic state leaders here Tuesday night.

The party leaders voted 202 to 9 in secret ballot for DiSalle to remain titular head of Ohio Democrats. He accepted, saying he would "work to build an organization and I'll give a lot more time than I can afford and spend money I shouldn't be spending in this effort."

The Democrats voted 203 to 8 for William J. Coleman to remain state chairman of the party. Coleman said the party needs $75,000 annually "to do the job which must be done." He said the party now has a $19,000 deficit.

Suggestions for liquidating the debt included a $50-a-plate dinner early next year, $2 to $100 memberships in the Ohio State Democratic Club and contributions of $100 to $200 yearly by members of the executive committee.

DiSalle told the Democrats that if "we ever are to win an election in Ohio, we have to develop an organization that can produce 1-850,000 votes."

He said the party needs "people who will accept party responsibility without material gain" and "civic-minded people" who will be "respected in their community."

U.S. Pockets 18th Medal At Olympic Tests

Parry O'Brien Chalks World Record As Shot Soars Over 60 Feet

MELBOURNE (A)—Uncle Sam's powerful Olympic team boosted its gold medal total to 18 today with a sweep in the 110-meter hurdles behind surprising Lee Calhoun and Parry O'Brien's record shot put. But Russia's Vladimir Kouts matched Bobby Morrow's double by winning his second distance run.

Calhoun, a lanky North Carolina College student from Gary, Ind., whipped Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., the world record holder, in a blanket finish. Joel Shankle of Durham, N.C., grabbed the bronze medal for third. It was so close both Calhoun and Davis were clocked in 13.5 seconds, beating Harrison Dillard's 1952 Olympic record of 13.7.

O'Brien did the expected by repeating his Helsinki triumph in the shot put. The young giant from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., shattered his own Olympic record with each of his six tosses and finally settled for a new mark of 60 feet 11 inches. Both Bill Nieder of Lawrence, Kan., with 59-7 3/4 and Jiri Skobla of Czechoslovakia with 57-10 3/4 topped the old standard while finishing second and third. So did Ken Bantum of New York, with 57-4 for fourth place.

The U. S. missed a potential sweep in the shotput but the 1-2-3 finish in the hurdles was its fourth of the Olympics, duplicating America's efforts in the 200-meters, 400-meter hurdles and discus.

Russia enjoyed its greatest day with four gold medals for a total of 10 with Kouts' victory in the 5,000-meter, its first sweep in the 20-kilometer walk, Inessa Iouzen's winning effort in the women's javelin and a come-from-behind success in the modern pentathlon team competition.

Another capacity crowd of 100,000 thrilled to a second Australian gold medal in women's track when Shirley Strickland de la Hunty skinned over the 80-meter hurdles in 10.7 seconds, breaking the accepted world record to repeat her Helsinki victory of four years ago. The three American girls had been eliminated in the heats.

Sweden snatched the other gold medal awarded on this brisk day when Lars Hall also repeated his 1952 triumph in the individual phase of the modern pentathlon. The teams and individuals finished the five-event competition with the 4,000-meter cross country run. The American pentathlon team was second to Russia after leading through the earlier events and George Lambert of Sioux City, Ia. was fifth among the individuals. Bill Andre of Montclair, N. J. was seventh and Jack Daniels of Missoula, Mont. 13th.

Lou Jones of New Rochelle N. Y., America's best bet sped home first in two heats of the 400-meter to qualify for Thursday's semifinals and finals along with Charlie Jenkins of Villanova and Cambridge, Mass. However, the third American, Jim Lea of San Jose, Calif., was eliminated when he came in fifth in the third heat of the second round. Jones' times were 48.1 seconds and 47.4, about two seconds off the record.

The U. S. team had won 11 of the first 17 events in men's track and field with seven more to go. It has potential winners in the decathlon starting tomorrow, the 400-meters and the two hurdles Saturday. The steeplechase, 400-meters, opening of the decathlon and the first heats in both men's and women's swimming are important events on the Thursday schedule.

Raiders Lose

86-52 Contest

Fifth Atlanta

Atlanta's Red Raiders went down to an 86 to 52 defeat last night in a cage contest with Amanda. The game was played on the Raider court.

The visitors piled up a 33 to 9 first quarter lead which coach Hobbie's Atlanta boys could not overcome. At halftime, the sharpshooting Amanda crew led, 46-19.

Atlanta's Dick Carter connected for 23 points in a workmanlike job to keep the losers in the game. Ronnie Ater contributed 14.

High man for the winners was DeLong, with 24 points. Teammates Johns and Ritchie had 13 and 12 respectively.

Amanda ended up with a twin

Ammanda ended up with a twin victory by winning the reserve contest, 47 to 14.

Legal Notice

ville, and no person, firm, nor corporation shall transport for any person, firm, or corporation, other than themselves any garbage or other refuse upon the streets, or ways, within the corporate limits of the City of Cleveland. The sole exception to this subsection shall be the collection and transportation of salvage materials.

c) After the contract for the collection and disposal of garbage and other refuse has been entered into, no person, firm, nor corporation shall dispose of such materials except in the following ways:

1. By disposal of garbage and other refuse in the authorized sanitary landfill dump operated and maintained by the contractor.
2. By the use of approved garbage grinders and subsequent discharge to the sanitary sewer system.
3. By incineration provided that the incinerating is done in an enclosed building and is done in such a manner that no smoke or noxious smells are created through the act of incineration.
4. By burying said garbage on premises whereon garbage or other refuse was created. Said burial to be of sufficient depth to allow not less than six (6) feet of earth over the refuse.

SECTION 3: THE PROPOSAL

Bidders shall be supplied with a proposal form upon which certain information shall be indicated such as location and size of tract or tracts, to be used for the landfill, equipment, and vehicles to be used, and the number of classes of service. Said proposal form is attached to and made a part hereof, as if the same was written herein.

SECTION 4: THE CONTRACT

The contract to be entered into between the City of Cleveland and the contractor shall embrace the following terms and obligations:

1. The contractor shall be assumed by each of the contracting parties to be:

1. CITY OF CLEVELAND

a) The City of Cleveland agrees to give the contractor the exclusive privilege and license to collect, transport and dispose of garbage and other refuse, within the corporate limits of the City of Cleveland for a period of three (3) years.

2. THE CONTRACTOR

The contractor agrees to collect, transport and dispose of the garbage and other refuse of all "householders" and "commercial operators" who desire to contract with the contractor's services, provided, however, that contractor shall only be obligated to enter into contracts with "householders" and "commercial operators" who store their garbage and other refuse in reasonably tight and substantial containers that are accessible to the contractor in his operation of his collection service along the streets. Said collection to be made in the rear where premises are served by suitable alley, or alleyways, otherwise collection shall be made along the streets.

3. THE CONTRACTOR

a) The contractor shall assume the obligation of furnishing to the City of Cleveland, a performance bond in the sum of $50,000 before he begins the collection of garbage and other refuse, which bond shall continue in effect during the term of the contract. The contractor shall be held liable for damages, for failure to perform the services under the terms of the contract.

4. THE CONTRACTOR

The contractor shall purchase and have in force during the term of the contract, personal liability, and property damage insurance in the amount of $50,000.00 to $100,000.00.

5. THE CONTRACTOR

The contractor shall make himself amenable to the Workmen's Compensation laws of the State of Ohio and he shall keep himself amenable thereto as long as his contract is in force and effect with the City of Cleveland, Ohio.

6. THE CONTRACTOR

The contractor of his heirs or assigns, shall save the City harmless forever from any and all personal injuries or property damages arising from the performance of the contract.

7. THE CONTRACTOR

That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Pirates Suffer 1st Cage Loss To St. Marys

Lancaster St. Mary swamped Pickaway 80 to 41 in a non-league game played at Pickaway Tuesday night.

In planting the first defeat of the season on the Pirates, the Lancaster quintet displayed a fast, efficient and sharp-shooting ball club.

High scorer for the evening was Dave Smith of Pickaway with 21 points. Evans chipped in with seven for the losers.

Lancaster St. Mary's high man was Lipton with 20 points, aided by Binninger with 12.

The St. Marys' junior squad gave the visitors a clean sweep for the evening by defeating the Pirate reserves.

Score by Quarters: 1st 23-12, 2nd 25-13, 3rd 23-11, 4th 10-3. Total 80-41.

Referee: Bill Ankrom & Snap Ankrom.

Substitute Guessert Picks Navy, Texas A&M For Wins

By DON WEISS
(For Harold Claassen)

NEW YORK — Claassen's carriers got through from the Fiji Islands with his packet of football picks last week but this time — well, just too much going on in Melbourne where Harold J. is reporting the new American gold rush.

So here goes with the choices for the wrapup weekend of the collegiate season in a program dipped in tradition:

Texas A&M over Texas — This one's on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day in Texas by order of the governor. A week late on the Texas calendar, it's not late enough for the Longhorns.

Navy over Army — What else from an old deck swab? Address all complaints to Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt — The Volunteers are sure of a major bowl invitation but that national ranking duel with Oklahoma will ward off any letdown. Georgia Tech over Georgia —

Scioto Posts Win Over Ohio Deaf 5

Scioto Township basketballers posted a 62 to 28 win over Ohio Deaf last night in a contest played on the losers' floor.

The winners' Delbert Neff racked up 19 points to gain scoring honors for the evening. Knapp assisted with 15.

Hartman of Ohio Deaf was high man for the losers with 15 tallies. Scioto also won the reserve game, 31 to 27.

Cleveland Set To Host Pan-Am

MELBOURNE — Fourteen Pan-American nations today were told Cleveland has $10 million to hold the 1959 Pan-American games in the Ohio city.

James Lee, chairman of the Cleveland Pan-Am Organizing Committee, made the report at a special luncheon attended by high athletic officials.

Lee told the gathering Cleveland had a grant of $5 million from the federal government. He added the county has ordered a bond issue of $3 1/2 million and the city of Cleveland has ordered a bond issue for $1 1/2 million to assure success of the games.

Booster Club Banquet Set For Tonight

Cleveland Booster Club's annual football banquet, honoring this year's CHS grid squad, coaches and cheerleaders is set for tonight at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church service center, E. Main St. The program is scheduled to get underway at 6:30.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the naming of the most valuable Tiger footballer of 1956. The player selected will be presented with a trophy, given by the boosters.

Main speaker for the evening will be the Rev. Carl Zehner, pastor of the local Trinity Lutheran Church.

Following the address by the Rev. Zehner, members of this year's team will be introduced to sports fans present. CHS coaches Steve Brudzinski and Dick Boyd will discuss some of the highlights of the past season.

Another highlight of the event will be the presence of several past winners of the MVP trophies. All winners, dating back to 1946 and still living in this area have been invited to attend as special guests of the Booster Club.

Sokolaky's These Days

Many causes enter into the rise and fall of empires and even a century can pass during which the shifting and changes of alliances keep the world in turmoil. Now we are what might be compared to a high fever in a sick but not dying patient and it will take great knowledge and wisdom and statesmanship to get over this particular moment in a prolonged period of confusion.

However, it is over-optimistic, even childishly so, to believe that any country is approaching what some like to call a solution to our numerous problems. There are no solutions, for one problem leads to another and it will take more than one conference and one generation to see an end to Soviet imperialism.

And if Soviet imperialism should crumble, it will be because a lot of weak and backward nations have pulled out of Russian authority. Such nations cannot stand alone. They must be supported as the United States is supporting its wards, West Germany and Japan.

Public Social Welfare Costs Increase Fivefold In 10 Years

Federal, State, Local Funds Bear Burden

Greater Expenditure Exceeds By Far National Income Gain

The cost of government-sponsored social welfare under civilian public programs in the United States has risen fivefold in the last decade, the Institute of Life Insurance stated today.

Complications made by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Institute said, show that expenditures for these programs from the public purse—Federal, State and local combined—rise from $1 1/2 billions in 1945 to some $21 1/2 billions in 1955. This is a far greater rate of growth than the period, the Institute noted.

National income, for example, according to the Institute, gained 79 percent between 1945 and 1955 as against a rise of some 400 percent in social welfare expenditures for the decade.

"Right now the bill for these programs comes to the equivalent of about $125 for every man, woman and child in the population, and is still heading upward under the pressure to expand and to liberalize benefits," the Institute said.

"THE COMPARABLE figure a decade ago was little more than $30 per capita. As far as combined Federal, State and local expenditures are concerned, social welfare outlays alone currently represent approximately a fifth of the government spending dollar. About 60 per cent of the aggregate cost comes from Federal funds.

"If education is included, as is done by the Department of Health, Welfare and Education in its compilation, then the total cost of Government-sponsored programs in the welfare-education field adds up to $32 1/2 billions for 1955 as compared with less than $8 billions in 1945, a rise of over 300 per cent.

"Public expenditures for education, however, have shown a substantially smaller rate of growth for the period than social welfare benefits.

"As a result of the trend, social welfare has become one of the big and inflexible elements in the cost of government in this country, with a built-in growth factor besides.

"The high cost of government continues to be one of the major problems facing the nation. It is the direct cause of the magnitude of the tax burden borne by the public. Furthermore, the level of government spending today represents a force that is contributing significantly to the inflationary pressures in an economy that is straining its resources of manpower, materials, and capital and investment funds."

Builder Convicted

WOOSTER (AP)—A common pleas jury Tuesday convicted Navarre contractor Walter Shetler of conspiring to defraud Dalton village of $300 in connection with a waterworks project.

Pizza Pie Place's Cold Dough Taken

DAYTON (AP)—Police said somebody burglarized some dough from a pizza place here. Only this wasn't the kind of dough you make pizza pies from.

It was $607.90 in cool cash. Real cool cash. It was taken from a walk-in cooler at Vicasano's Pizza House.

Cincy Aides At Odds On Job For Lyons

CINCINNATI (AP)—City officials are at odds over the status of Robert V. Lyons, former city worker acquitted last Friday in the knife slaying of a Cincinnati woman.

City Councilor Carl W. Rich said Tuesday he believes Lyons, former city water meter reader, should not only get his old post back but also receive back pay.

But City Solicitor Henry M. Bruestle said he knows of no legal basis under which the city can reinstate Lyons in his old job with the 19 years seniority he built up as a city worker.

Lyons was found innocent by a Criminal Court jury of a first-degree murder charge in the death of Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh in her home in exclusive Hyde Park last April 11.

Lyons was dismissed from his job May 26 after police obtained a murder "confession" which Lyons repudiated at his trial. He failed to appeal the dismissal within 10 days as required by law.

Rich asked, "How could he file an appeal? He was in jail."

Bruestle said he could have had his attorney act for him or have written a letter himself. He said Lyons had also withdrawn from the city retirement system his accumulated contributions of $2,437.

2 Cleveland Men Given Sentences

STEUBENVILLE (AP)—Common Pleas Judge John J. Griesinger has sentenced two Cleveland men to the Ohio Penitentiary for their part in the $10,000 robbery of a cafe here last July.

Judge Griesinger overruled a motion for new trial and sentenced Anthony Valletto, 41, to a total of 11-45 years on two counts. Valletto was given 10-25 years for armed robbery and 1-20 years for forcible entry into a safe, the two sentences to run consecutively.

Thomas Rudalik, 32, was the other man sentenced. He changed his plea when charges against him were reduced to robbery, pleading guilty. Judge Griesinger sentenced him to 1-25 years.

Lyons To Be Given New Job In Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP)—City Manager C. A. Harrell has directed that Robert V. Lyons will be given a temporary job with the city if he applies for re-employment, but city personnel Director W. Donald Heisel says Lyons would not regain his seniority rights.

Lyons, a former city waterworks meter reader, was acquitted last Friday of a first-degree murder charge in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh in her home last April 11.

Mother's Biggest Worry: Criticism From Daughter

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Mothers smarting under the criticism of today's brand of superior offspring may take comfort from the fact that all parents are in the same boat.

For example, one of the world's most famous dress designers gets goose pimples when she tries to decide what to wear for a visit to her college daughter. Adele Simpson of New York, who designs clothes for some of the world's best-dressed women, says it's easier to face a roomful of buyers from the country's top stores than to undergo the scrutiny of her 17-year-old daughter, Joan.

"I'm getting a positive inferiority complex," says the small, poised and perfectly accoutred Mrs. Simpson. "Just the other day Joan's father and I were planning to drive up to college and see her over the weekend. I telephoned Joan to tell her our plans, and she asked: 'But, mother, what are you wearing?'"

"I told her I hadn't given it much thought, and she replied in obvious distress, 'Oh, mother, do be careful! I worry about you so. Please, mother, don't overdo things!'"

"Well, I had planned to wear something simple, like a suit or a wool dress, but after this conversation I was somewhat shaken. Were parents supposed to arrive in blue jeans or slacks and sweaters? I haven't spent so much time selecting a costume in years. In the end I wore a wool jersey tunic dress and a tweed coat. When we arrived, Joan inspected me anxiously, then relaxed and nodded a relieved 'okay'. But when we went indoors and I took off my coat she looked in horror at my tunic dress and gasped: 'But, mother! Your undershirt is showing!'"

It's a real triumph when a mother can win the approval of one of today's highly critical daughters of high school or college age. These poised and confident young people apparently feel that parents need a great deal of compassionate guidance to be able to negotiate the simplest duties of everyday living.

Ohio Farm Bureau Elects Trustees

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Farm Bureau Federation delegates have elected four new state trustees and reelected four more at their annual convention here. The terms are for three years.

Elected were Mrs. W. A. Smith, Hillsboro; Louis J. Hay, Lockbourne; Frank Sollars, Washington C. H. and Sumner Palmer, Napoleon. Reelected were H. D. Heckathorn, Forest; L. F. Warbington, Sidney; A. R. Wadsworth, Malvern, and E. J. Cook, New Vienna.

Ohio Farm Bureau Stamps Its OK On 75 Resolutions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 38th meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation ended Tuesday after re-election of all of its officers and approval of some 75 resolutions.

H. D. Heckathorn of Wyandot County was re-elected president for the third time. Other re-elected officers include Ferris Owen, Newark, vice president; Rex Long, Loudonville, treasurer, and D. R. Stanfield, Columbus, executive secretary and organization director.

Organization objectives approved included (1) no further increases in real estate taxes, (2) stiffer safety enforcement, (3) a state milk control law, (4) a law holding parents liable for acts of vandalism committed by their minor children, (5) further development of the Ohio State Fairgrounds in

Lima Jury Convicts Man In Robbery

LIMA (AP)—Kenneth J. Orth, 25, of Marion, was convicted here

Columbus and (6) creation of a water study commission.

At the national level, delegates urged continuation of the soil bank after 1959 "if needed to keep supply in line with demand." They said the Tennessee Valley Authority's work should be continued "free of political restraints."

Tuesday of armed robbery. Allen County Common Pleas Judge Moran B. Jenkins did not set a time for sentencing.

Orth was accused of the Dec. 10, 1954 holdup of a Lima tavern in which John R. Mooney, 22, a Korean War veteran from Lima, was murdered. An Allen County jury found Orth innocent of the slaying last July.
